

YouSendIt Express allows users to seamlessly send files and folders directly from their desktop

New application makes sending files as simple as saving files

CAMPBELL, Calif. – March 4, 2008 – YouSendIt, Inc., the trusted global leader in digital content delivery, today announced YouSendIt Express for both the PC and the Apple® Mac platforms, allowing users to quickly and seamlessly send files and folders with rich sending options directly from their desktop without having to open an e-mail client or Web browser.

YouSendIt Express supports the latest Mac and PC operating systems and offers rich sending options including file expiration control, password protection, and a built-in zipping feature allowing users to drag and drop folders that will automatically zip up before sending. Express users also experience up to 25 percent faster uploads and the protection of resumable upload. Should an Internet connection be momentarily lost during file upload, activity will resume automatically once the connection has been restored. The desktop application saves users from struggling with FTP transfers, e-mail bounce-backs, and wasting time and resources on burning CD's to mail overnight.

“YouSendIt Express expands the current range of solutions available to users and is just one example of enabling workflow integration for all businesses and creative environments,” said YouSendIt founder and CTO, Ranjith Kumaran.

YouSendIt Express can be conveniently downloaded directly from the YouSendIt Web site. Earlier this year at MacWorld, YouSendIt released plug-ins for Adobe Photoshop™ and Apple® Aperture™. The YouSendIt Photoshop plug-in, available for Photoshop CS3™, makes it easy to send files of all types directly from within the Photoshop workflow. The YouSendIt Apple® Aperture™ plug-in allows photographers to send photos to clients, partners and service bureaus directly from within the application.
